

Ocean Tides is dedicated to providing a coordinated treatment program for every youth and family in its care. Our program asks young people to face up to their shortcomings and needs by providing a blend of direction, correction, negation, and affirmation so that the youth may reenter his family and community at a pace, and in stages that provide necessary supports while developing self-sufficiency. The Ocean Tides program ultimately hopes to increase the prospect for the young man's happiness and fulfillment.

Introducing the Ocean Tides Outdoor Recreation Area

Forty years ago this year Ocean Tides opened its doors to young men from throughout Rhode Island who needed an opportunity for someone to believe in them, listen to their stories, help them find success in school, and teach them skills needed for everyday living. Ocean Tides School has provided that opportunity for thousands of young men since. The facilities needed for success with these young men forty years ago, and those required today, are changed. Teenagers are different today, and so are the tools and resources Ocean Tides needs to help these young men.

While Ocean Tides School enjoys sharing a large and beautiful campus with the Christian Brothers, there is no specifically designed or developed outdoor space for the teenagers who are the residents at Ocean Tides. At any given time some 35 young men need the opportunity to not only “burn off a bit of energy” and get some fresh air, but learn to play well with others and about activities they can do to fill their free time, other than sit around inside or stand around on the corner.

The yard provides a dedicated open space for outdoor relaxation and recreation in a supervised way; a basketball and volleyball court for activities, exercise and competition; and a BBQ and cooking area so as to enjoy the wonderful weather and outdoors here at Ocean Tides. Some benches and lighting, needed equipment, furniture and storage areas round out the design.

We hope you will join us in making this dream of a new, contemporary and modern outdoor space for our students a reality. We can only accomplish this dream and give our young men this opportunity with your support.
